BreastCancersStories.Org Announces Sponsor

Seascape Capital Management Aids Breast Cancer Support Site

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. - August 16, 2009 - BreastCancerStories.Org, a local non-profit organization that provides people affected by breast cancer with an online networking environment to keep family updated as they progress through treatment and connect with other Survivors and Care Givers, recently accepted a $1,000 sponsorship donation from Seascape Capital Management. Seascape Capital's sponsorship will provide operational funding for the organization.

Seascape Capital Management is an independent financial advisor located in North Hampton, New Hampshire. "At Seascape Capital, our goal is to preserve, create, and foster the growth of our clients' wealth so they can enjoy the more meaningful aspects of their lives," said President and Chief Investment Officer, Jim McCarthy. "Through our donation, we can help enrich the lives of our clients, their friends, and their families in another but very different way."

Founded by a breast cancer survivor, BreastCancerStories.org, is a non -profit organization that provides its services to its members at no charge. The site is secure and most of the stories listed there are available for the public to read. It is not a traditional blog in that the stories are searchable by a number of different demographics — a great way for people to not only connect and share their stories with their family and friends, but the stories can help other people in similar situations and allow for emotional healing in the process.

The organization is hosting two very special fundraising events—The CELEBRATEPINK Rockin' Bowl-A-Thon on August 29th at the Portsmouth Bowl-O-Rama on Lafayette Road and the CELEBRATEPINK 5K Race and Walk on September 19th, which will start in downtown Portsmouth and end near Prescott Park. All proceeds from the events go directly to support the costs associated with operating the site. ## About BreastCancerStories.Org

BreastCancerStories.org is a nonprofit, 501(c) 3 organization founded in 2005 by breast cancer survivor Wendy McCoole. The mission of BreastCancerStories.org is to provide a forum for breast cancer patients, survivors, and caregivers to share their stories and stay connected while providing emotional healing.

BreastCancerStories.org is a free membership organization—there are no fees associated with the website. Members customize their own Web page, guestbook, photo gallery and have the ability to communicate freely with others through the website. What differentiates BreastCancerStories.org from typical blog sites is the website's search functions. Through a variety of different navigations users can search the site by story, location, age, type of breast cancer, treatment, and even lifestyles such as relationship status, children, and ethnic background

BreastCancerStories.org is funded by charitable contributions, healthcare sponsorships, grants, individual donations, and fundraising events. For information, visit www.breastcancerstories.org.
